A mild-mannered man was reading a book on being self-assertive and decided to start practicing his newfound assertiveness at home. So he stormed into his house and said, "From now on I'm the boss around here, and my word is law! I want you to prepare me a gourmet meal and draw my bath. Then, when I've finished with my bath, guess who's going to dress me and comb my hair?"

"The mortician," replied his wife.

The diner was furious when his steak arrived too rare. "Waiter," he barked, "didn't you hear me say 'well done'?"

"I can't thank you enough, sir," replied the waiter, "I hardly ever get compliments."
